

Mind Body Medicine for Stress Reduction

The separation of psychology from the premises of biology is purely artificial, because the human psyche lives in indissoluble union with the body. ~ Carl Jung

What is Mind Body Medicine for Stress Reduction Class?

Mind/Body Medicine for Stress Reduction teaches self-care to help reduce frustrating symptoms from daily stress and illness. Stress can lead to anxiety, depression, a weakened immune system and increased physical symptoms or illness. The 8 weeks are designed to reduce stress and build resilience through a variety of mind/body practices, enhancing your ability to heal and grow.
